DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 1/5/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to claims 1-11 and 23-26, the Applicant contends the claims are directed to a practical application since the present invention provides improved techniques for minimizing error and inaccuracies due to requantization. However, all the steps of claims 1 and 23 merely manipulate an abstract idea and are performed inside a computer. Thus, the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter and should be rejected under 35 USC 101.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 1-11 are drawn to a computer implemented process that merely manipulates data or an abstract idea, or merely solves a mathematical problem without a limitation to a practical application in the technological arts.

In order for a claimed invention to accomplish a practical application, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result" State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02 (see MPEP 2106.II.A). A practical application can be achieved through recitation of “a physical transformation outside the computer for which a practical application in the technological arts is either disclosed in the specification or would have been known to a skilled artisan”, or “limited to a practical application within the technological arts” (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)). Currently, claims 1-11 meet neither of these criteria. In order to for the claimed process to produce a “useful, concrete and tangible’ result, recitation of one or more of the following elements is suggested:

- * The manipulation of data that represents a physical object or activity transformed from outside the computer (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).
- * A recitation of a physical transformation outside the computer, for example in the form of pre or post computer processing activity (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).
- * A direct recitation of a practical application in the technological arts (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(ii)).

4. Claims 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 23-26 are drawn to functional descriptive material embodied on a computer readable medium (i.e., “data structures and computer programs which impart functionality when employed as a computer component” at MPEP 2106.IV.B(1)). However, the program/algorithm itself merely manipulates data or an abstract idea, or merely solves a mathematical problem without a limitation to a practical application in the technological arts. MPEP 2106.IV.B2(a) (Statutory Product Claims) states:

“A claim limited to a... manufacture, which has a practical application in the technological arts, is statutory.”

In order for a claimed invention to accomplish a practical application, it must produce a “useful, concrete and tangible result” State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02 (see MPEP 2106.II.A). A practical application can be achieved through recitation of “a physical transformation outside the computer for which a practical application in the technological arts is either disclosed in the specification or would have been known to a skilled artisan”, or “limited to a practical application within the technological arts” (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)). Currently, claims 23-26 meet neither of these criteria. In order to for the claimed process to produce a “useful, concrete and tangible’ result, recitation of one or more of the following elements is suggested:

- * The manipulation of data that represents a physical object or activity transformed from outside the computer (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).
- * A recitation of a physical transformation outside the computer, for example in the form of pre or post computer processing activity (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).
- * A direct recitation of a practical application in the technological arts (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(ii)).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 12-22 and 27-31 are allowed.
6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding independent claims 12 and 27, the prior art, taken either singly or in combination, does not teach:

- an output interface configured to/means for transmit/transmitting a plurality of output coefficients ( $F_0$ ) quantized at the output quantization scale, wherein the plurality of output coefficients are determined using a formula minimizing the difference between dequantized input coefficients ( $f_i$ ) and dequantized output coefficients ( $f_o$ ).

Regarding claims 13-22 and 28-31, since these claims depend from claims 12 and 27, respectively, they are also allowable for the same reason.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
